REMOTE CONTROLLED RISK:

MANAGING WORKERS' COMP FOR TRAVELING AND REMOTE EMPLOYEES

THURSDAY • OCTOBER 23 • 2025

1-2 P.M. EASTERN

As the workplace continues to evolve, so do the risks and challenges employers face in managing workers' compensation claims. Remote work arrangements, traveling employees and continuous employment scenarios all present unique questions under Georgia law — questions that can expose employers and insurers to unexpected liability if not addressed proactively. In this webinar, our attorneys will examine the legal landscape surrounding non-traditional work environments. Beginning with a look at the rapid rise of remote work and the impact of mobile, continuously employed workers, the program will outline key doctrines, provide real-world case examples and discuss developing trends that employers and insurers need to watch closely.
